

Background radiation measurements and muon simulations for nuclear astrophysics in the new low seismic lab of the DZA

A new opportunity for nuclear astrophysics.

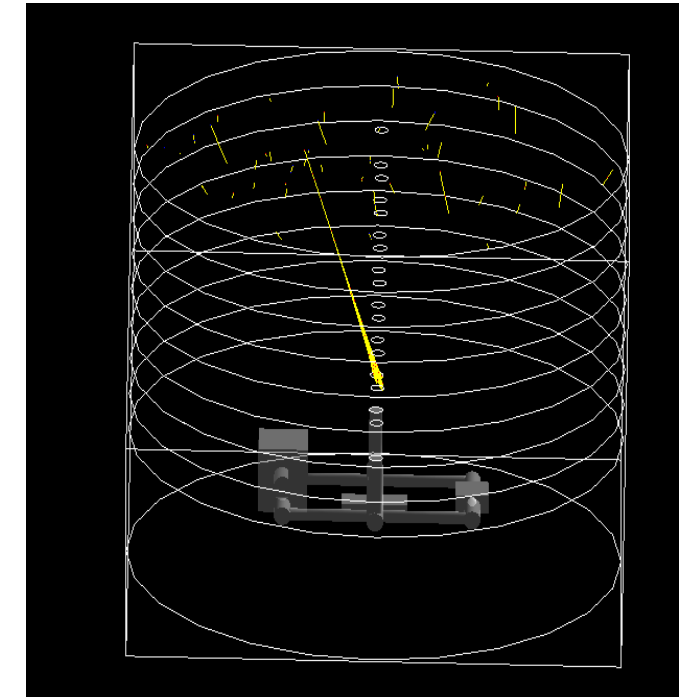

Natural background radiation measurements of a drill core.

A small sample on the TU1 gamma detector.

→ Poster 30

Geant4 simulation set up of LSL for muon transport with biasing layers.

Simon Vincent, Helmholtz-Zentrum Dresden Rossendorf,
Germany